Dear Microsoft

I have been using your products for the past several years, ever since I got a computer.

I will admit that I did use Netscape at first mainly because my son had it in the computer when he gave it to me. I now use only and have been using only Outlook express and Internet Explorer. I am well pleased. I have found that by using Microsoft I find that other software works best,

Thank you for an excellent product, I am new with computers, and being 72 yrs old I find your products fit the bill and easily learned.

In my own opinion this court battle going on is wrong. It seems to me that by allowing suits of this nature it will surely curtail others from coming forward with new technology for fear of finding them selves in court

All the best and may God continue to Bless your and your company.
